

FIRST NATIONS
FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT BOARD
LE CONSEIL DE GESTION FINANCIÈRE
DES PREMIÈRES NATIONS

Established as one of the four national institutions under federal legislation, the First Nations Financial Management Board (FNFMB) is a non-profit institution that provides tools and guidance that will instill confidence in First Nations' financial management and reporting systems to support economic and community development.

Since its inception in 2007, the FNFMB has been developing financial administration standards that meet the requirements of the First Nations Fiscal Management Act and the interests of First Nations, taxpayers, investors, and capital markets. With integrity, responsiveness, and relevance as its fundamental tenets, the FNFMB offers services in support of financial administration law development, financial management system certification, local revenue account reporting, intervention, and capacity development. As a growing and thriving institution, the FNFMB is currently seeking two key individuals for newly created management roles:

MANAGER, MARKET DEVELOPMENT

As an experienced manager in marketing strategy and community relations you are able to maintain collaborative working relationships with First Nation Chiefs and Councils, CEOs, CFOs and other contacts to identify opportunities and devise strategies that will advance the objectives of FNFMB nationally. While identifying potential market opportunities and new clients in each region of Canada, you will manage various activities related to client engagement, relationship building and market development. With a strong understanding of new technology paired with the ability to strategically utilize social media, you will develop and initiate marketing and communications strategies and materials to promote FNFMB services. You will also monitor trends, emerging issues, conduct research and environmental scans to keep abreast of new developments and provide thought leadership material for the FNFMB Management team and Executive Chair of the Board.

MANAGER, CAPACITY DEVELOPMENT & INTERVENTION

As an experienced manager and/or educator possessing strong financial/accounting skills with knowledge in finance and training, you will manage capacity development strategies and implement activities and administer agreements that assist First Nations clients meet FNFMB certification standards. As the new manager, you will assess capacity building needs and identify capacity development methodologies, tools and resources. You will seek feedback from First Nation clients in understanding their capacity development needs and identify training resources to support FNFMB clients through certification standards and intervention activities. When necessary, through relationships with external researchers and academic institutions, you will manage research to develop and improve training resources for FNFMB clients. You will also manage, when necessary, the FNFMB intervention activities, processes and procedures as it relates to FNFMB legislative requirements. The ideal candidate is proactive, collaborative and excels in a team environment.

Both Managers must be able to travel and will be excellent communicators and public speakers, with a minimum of 5 years' experience in First Nations community development, combined with experience in public consultation or community relations as well as experience with program planning, development and management. Candidates must possess a relevant university degree.
